Generative UI and custom experiences with Antigravity

The image shows a Google search interface with a query box containing the text: "build a fitness tracker to automate daily workouts and wellness routines. maximize my schedule and my gym memberships". Below the query, there are search filters for "AI Mode", "All", "Images", "Videos", "News", "Shopping", and "More". The search results include a snippet from 7 sites with the text: "To help you meet your fitness goals in New York City, I've designed a system that leverages your existing memberships to Core Dynamics Gym and StudioSync. This plan focuses on smart logistics—from class bookings that sync with your calendar to meal prep suggestions based on your latest grocery list." To the right, a preview of a "Fitness & Meal Tracker" dashboard is shown, featuring a sidebar with "TODAY", "WEEK", "WORKOUTS", and "MEALS" sections. The main content area displays "TUESDAY", "Good morning, Camille", and weather information: "68°F - Clear", "WFH day", and "2 meetings". A "Book" button is visible in the bottom right corner of the dashboard preview.
