

Gametrade and Radgost teams join Reaktor!

We're totally happy to announce two new startups joined Reaktor: Gametrade and Radgost.

Gametrade.pl is a e-commerce platform for gamers and small indie shops, where they can buy, sell or swap computer/console games with each other. Currently Gametrade.pl is used by more then 140 000 gamers form Poland, mainly PS3/Xbox360 owners.

Gametrade.pl team (Marek Lipka and Damian Legawiec) seems pretty happy to be in Reaktor's open space :)

Radgost is a company which provides a set of tools called Firmlet, which help companies work more efficiently. One of these tools is HelpOcean - an online bug reporting widget you can place on your website (think: GetSatisfaction or SnapEngage).

Radgost guys (Marcin Stefaniak, Michał Stefaniak and Paweł Deryło) posing in their room in Reaktor.

We wish both teams great successes and we encourage all startups to use Radgost products. Filmaster and Pobli, other Reaktor startups, already do it and they are very happy with the results.